Dedicated and passionate college student at TUD studying computer science. I actively compete in CTF hacking events for Team Ireland to constantly improve my programming and team working skills to hopefully compete in the ECSC (European Cyber-Security Challenge). I have a huge interest in programming, Linux and cyber security which allows me to have experience using C, Bash, JavaScript, assembly, Python and many more. I have a personal website with links to my Github projects found on the domain Kacper.boo.
